

DOMINIQUE LÉVY

whitewall

Top Exhibitions
Opening This Week
in New York (Sept. 17 – 20)

Lucio Fontana, Yves Klein, Cy Twombly: “Audible Presence” at Dominique Lévy Gallery September 18 – November 16 Opening: September 18, 6-9PM 909 Madison Avenue Spanning a thirty year period, Audible Presence reveals moments of conceptual and formal resonance between carefully selected works of art by Fontana, Klein, and Twombly. While the monochromatic surfaces on view – cut, pressed, burned, inscribed, or otherwise violated – reflect distinct dynamic, sensual, and romantic approaches to abstraction, they emerged from a shared Mediterranean climate and engagement with an international community of influential dealers and critics such as Iris Clert and Pierre Restany.

Yves Klein: “Monotone-Silence Symphony” at Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church Performance: September 18, 8PM 921 Madison Avenue This powerful perceptual encounter will unfold over 40 minutes. Seventy musicians and singers will hold a single continuous tone for a 20-minute period. The performers then will remain frozen and motionless in observance of a 20-minute period of absolute silence. Of that soundlessness Klein wrote, “The silence is so marvelous because it grants happenstance and even sometimes the possibility of true happiness, if only for a moment, for a moment whose duration is immeasurable.”

http://whitewallmag.com/all/art/top-exhibitionsopening-this-weeksept-17-20?utm_source=rss&utm_medium=rss&utm_campaign=top-exhibitionsopening-this-weeksept-17-20

Í